5. [redacted] I talked with Robert Smart, House Armed Services Committee staff, and asked him if there was any feeling in the Committee concerning an Agency briefing on the 22nd of May. Smart said that unless the Agency had any important information which it felt should be brought to the Committee's attention, he suggested that we defer our next briefing to June. Smart added this comment: "I think we are meeting often enough to keep the wolves from the door."
